New York, June 1.—The challenge round in the Davis Cup international tennis tournament will be played on the courts of the West Side Tennis Club at Forest sion was made today by the tournament committee of the National Lawn Tennis final rounds during which the representatives of six other nations will compete for the right to challenge the Yankee team—has been awarded to the London Tennis Club, of London, and the foreign players will be seen there on August 6, 7, and 8.

No action has been taken thus far by the committee in arranging the game between the Australian and Canadian

LABOR PROVISION PASSED IN HOUSE

treating labor as a commodity, a natural error, perhaps, when the subject is given superficial thought. Under our institutions labor has never become property, either before the court or before the legislature. Under our Constitution property in human beings has forever ceased, but a barrel of oil is not only a commodity in the market, it is a commodity before the courts and before the legislature. Its legal attribute is property, and the leading attribute of the subject man is citizenship. A different process of sociology and justice apply to these two subject matters when they are before Congress or the courts.

Section 3 also contains a provision directing that the anti-trust laws shall not apply to agreements made among railroads that receive the sanction of the Interstate Commerce Commission. A number of amendments offered to this provision were defeated. An amendment offered by Representative Ferris of Oklahoma, a Democrat, declaring electric power companies and pipe lines to be common carriers, and therefore subject to regulation by the Interstate Commerce Commission, was ruled out on a point of order.

Section 5 of the bill, prohibiting mergers of corporations that lessen competition and forbidding the formation of holding companies under penalty of fine and imprisonment, was passed by the House as reported. All amendments to this section were defeated as fast as they were offered.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of section 6, which is aimed at interlocking directorates. Debate on this was continued into the night session, which was held in the hope that sufficient progress would be made to enable the House to complete consideration of the bill by tonight at the latest.

With the disposal of the labor section, section 7—yesterday's discussion on the Clayton bill was purely perfunctory. The opposition merely made a show of force, but did not attempt to delay action.

The leaders hope to pass the bill tonight. If it does not go through, it will have to be put aside for the code bill which, under the rules, has the right tomorrow. The bill will certainly pass Thursday. The railway capitulization bill will then come up for consideration. The House leaders hope to transmit the trust program of three bills to the Senate by the middle of next week.

LABOR GETS NO PRIVILEGES.

PRESIDENT'S UNDERSTANDING

President Wilson does not understand that the labor amendments to the Clayton trust bill confer any additional privileges or prerogatives upon organized labor or retain to labor any rights not enjoyed by business organizations. His understanding is that the labor sections merely specify that organized labor is not in itself a body existing in violation of the Sherman law, as implied through Supreme Court decisions from which it might be inferred that organized labor exists in violation of the Sherman law.
 The purpose of the amendment, according to the President, is to relieve any doubt as to the legality of labor unions.

ALDIS B. BROWNE WILL

BE BURIED TOMORROW

Capital Lawyer's Last Resting Place to Be in Rock Creek

Cemetery.

FROM OFFICE BOY TO PARTNER

Funeral services for Aldis B. Browne, who died at his home, 1355 Wyoming avenue northwest, late Sunday night, will be held at his residence at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Bishop Earl Cranston will officiate, assisted by Dr.

Franklin Hamilton, chancellor of the American University and the Rev. William R. Wedderburn, pastor of Foundry Methodist Episcopal Church, of which Mr. Browne was a trustee. Interment in Rock Creek cemetery will follow.

Mr. Browne was nationally known as a member of the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States and as a member of the District bar. He was a member of the board of trustees of the American University, which was opened last Wednesday, and treasurer of the Washington National Monument Society. He was also a former vice president of the Board of Trade, a member of the board of governors of the Foundling Hospital, an interested worker for the Gospel Mission, a member of the executive committee of the American Bar Association, a member of the Oldest Inhabitants' Association of the District of Columbia and one of the faculty of Georgetown Law School.

Mr. Browne left school at the age of fourteen to enter the law office of Britton & Gray as office boy, and at the time of his death was senior partner of the firm.

He was born in Washington December 11, 1877, the son of Jerome and Mary Elizabeth Browne, and except for occasional trips out of town had been a life-long resident of this city.

His death was caused by Bright's disease, which attacked him in February, 1912. Partial recovery permitted him to carry on his affairs until February

THE HEROES OF DRILL

High School, with Battalion Adj. H. D.
 Shapiro, of Central High School.
 About 1,000 persons, mostly high school girls and boys, crowded the big stands of the baseball park to capacity. The various sections of the stand had been apportioned off to the observing sections of the five schools participating, and their banners were hung from the steel girders above each section.

As the companies marched upon the field their respective cheering sections roared encouragement, but for some reason the noise usually attendant upon the annual drill was slightly lacking yesterday. The covered pavilion had been reserved for the small brothers and sisters of the competing cadets, and the "kiddie" made more noise and cheered more heartily than the rest of the stands combined.

Rain Scopes Crowd.

From the time the drill started at 1:30 o'clock until the last company marched off the field, shortly after 5 o'clock, lowering clouds in the north and west threatened a drenching rain at any moment, and after the drill of Company K, which was the feature of the afternoon, fully one-third of the big crowd made its way from the street to the car lines, rather than face the prospect of a shower.

There was the usual loss of caps, caps and equipment by the cadets, and one cadet actually lost his collar, which reposed on the edge of the infield all through the afternoon. The company firing, which formerly featured the annual drill, has been eliminated entirely, and no rattle of infantry broke over Le Droit Park during the course of the maneuvers.

The second and final maneuvers of the drill will be held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. At that time the flag will be awarded to the winning company, after six more companies of the cadet regiment have been put through their paces.
 Companies I, A, F, G, E, and B, of Central, Eastern and Business high schools will participate.

The second day of the drill always brings out the heaviest attendance of the event, and the crowd this afternoon is expected to be even heavier than yesterday's.
